Report

Process of preparation of hand rub sanitizer recommended by WHO

Ingredients:

To produce final concentrations of isopropyl alcohol 75% v/v, glycerol 1.45% v/v, hydrogen peroxide 0.125% v/v:

Following chemicals are poured into a 1000 ml graduated flask:

- isopropyl alcohol (with a purity of 99.8%), 751.5 ml
- H₂O₂ 3%, 41.7 ml
- glycerol 98%, 14.5 ml

Distilled water was added to make up the volume upto 1000 ml. The flask was shaken gently to mix the content.

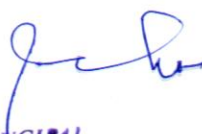

We have prepared 10 L of the sanitizer. Two plastic bottles with screwthreaded stoppers each of 5 L capacity were used.

Method:

- The alcohol is poured into the 10 L tank up to the graduated mark.
- H₂O₂ is added using the measuring cylinder.
- Glycerol is added using a measuring cylinder.
- The tank is then topped up to the corresponding mark of the volume to be prepared with the remainder of the distilled water.
- The screw cap is placed on the tank immediately after mixing to prevent evaporation.
- The solution is mixed by gently shaking the recipient by using a plastic paddle.
- After mixing, the solution is immediately divided into smaller containers (100 ml plastic bottles). The bottles were kept in quarantine for 72 hours.

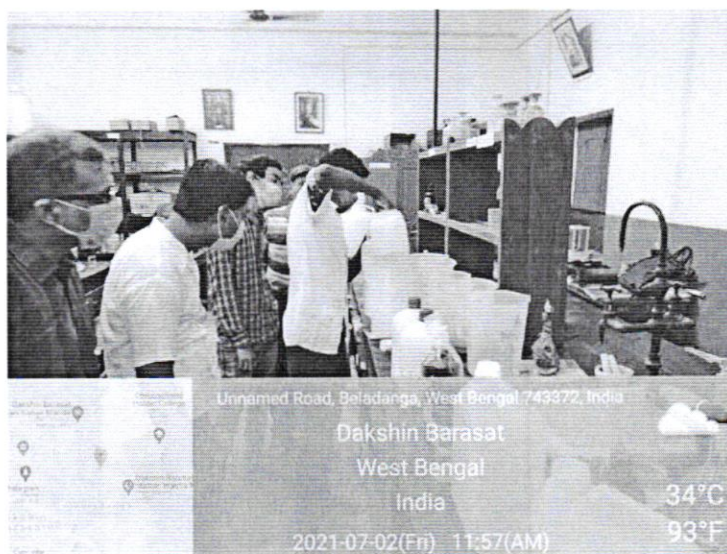

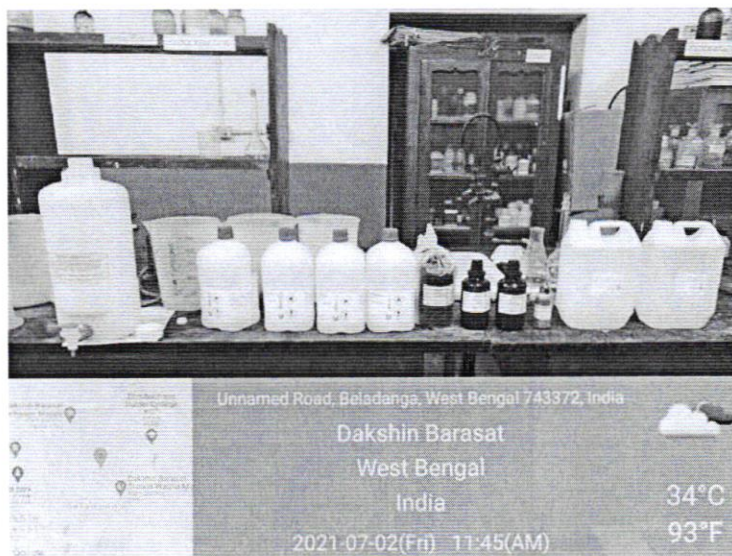

After preparation bottles are labeled and compositions are written clearly on the label.
